");MODULE_LICENSE("GPL"); May 4, 2012 - Activision Publishing, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Activision Blizzard, Inc. (Nasdaq: ATVI), today announced that its wholly owned subsidiary, Activision Publishing, Inc. has developed a new mobile game application, Diablo™ for Facebook™, exclusively for Facebook gamers. Players on Facebook can now play and participate in the social media experience like never before. By combining Diablo's legendary gameplay with social features that connect people, the new Diablo app enhances the experience of existing players and introduces new ones to the game. "We are thrilled to extend Diablo's social media footprint through the creation of a social application for Facebook gamers," said Harvey Eagle, Vice President and General Manager, Activision Publishing, Inc. "We are committed to delivering the most social experience for the players and will continue to innovate on the level of connectivity. We are excited to be partnering with Facebook to offer a complete social experience for Diablo fans." The Diablo app gives gamers access to their existing social media accounts (Facebook, Twitter, etc.) and a whole new way to play Diablo through the popular social networking giant. Gamers can chat with their friends, share screenshots, and send in-game images and text while exploring the Diablo universe. Users can create their own world and invite their friends to join them, then take advantage of Diablo's intuitive and streamlined character and item management to find gear and items for their online adventuring. The Diablo app is currently available on Facebook. "Facebook has a large, dedicated Diablo community, and we are excited to bring together this group of passionate players and give them a way to engage with the game on a new and exciting level," said Paul Ryan, Vice President, Product Management, Facebook Games. "With Diablo's creative design, addictive gameplay, and amazing social features, we believe that there is a need for a new, social way for fans to experience the game." "By combining our global audience and extensive Blizzard content and community resources, we are confident that we can offer a unique Diablo experience to our players," said Christoph Hartmann, CEO, Diablo. "The Diablo app on Facebook extends and enhances the experience of players, bringing them together in a new way with all their friends and social networks." Leading up to the launch of the Diablo app on Facebook, Blizzard has also announced plans to host a special online event for Diablo III fans. The Free Weekend for Diablo III will take place on May 82157476af
